Definition

It is a statistical measure used to assess gender parity or equality in the rate at which male and female students discontinue their education within a specified period, typically measured annually.

Method of computation

GPI = Dropout Rate for Male Students/Dropout Rate for Female Students

Unit of measurement

Ratio

Disaggregation

Total

Data reporting frequency

Annual

Source

Ministry of Education